The work was on the whole satisfactory, though in the beginning I found that he was not paying sufficient attention to the executive part of his duties, i.e., in the inspection of the town & supervision of the work of the Sanitary Inspector. But lately he had improved in this respect. His character as far as I am aware was good and he generally commanded the respect and confidence of those he came in contact with.

I Concur that he should give better attention to Executive work. Supervision over the Subordinate Staff is much to be desired. He learns & knows his work but there must be endeavour to discharge his duties to public & his superiors officers.
